

THE MISSING RING

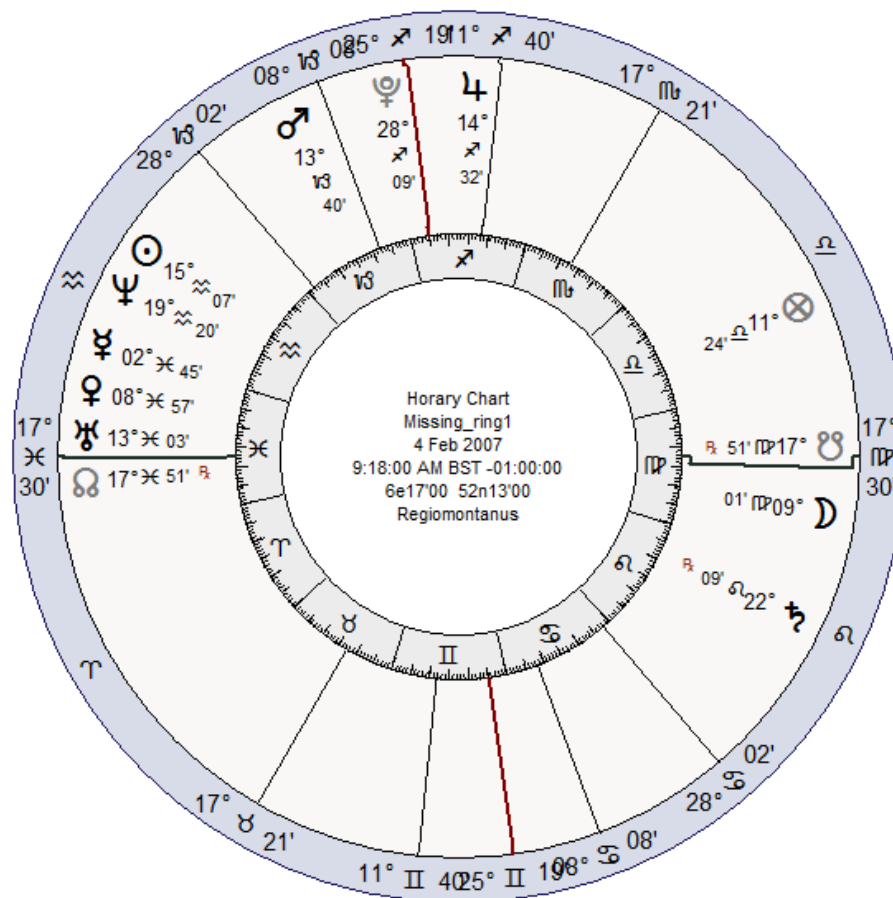

By Tienka Atema, STAc, Netherlands

The querent had inherited a precious ring from her mother-in-law, which she kept for special occasions. She remembered that the last time she had seen the ring was a little under a month beforehand, on January 12th 2007, the day she had thrown a housewarming party.

Because she was busy with the preparations, she remembered that she had placed the ring on the kitchen sink, with the intention to put it back on afterwards to wear at the party.

Her husband had told her to be careful: that this was not a good place to leave the ring behind ... She then forgot about the ring and later could not remember anything about what had happened. After the party, she noticed the ring was missing and she searched the house, but the ring was nowhere to be found.
